Last week, the Master 2 students received Mylène COSENZA, Human Resources Manager for Sessùn.

After a Master degree in Human Resource Management at the IAE, she got her first HR Assistant position for the La Poste group. Fed by this first learning in the professional world, she became in charge of recruitment for the industrial Veolia. While she was not predestined for the fashion industry, Mylène Cosenza shared her rich past experiences, by integrating the recruiting teams of American Vintage. And quickly, she became human resources manager for Sessùn.

Her intervention was to provide advices to students to enhance their CV and to help them for their internship's searchings. With a rather unusual career, her experience allowed her to answer any questions and advises case by case each student. After that, Ms. Cosenza developed the recruiting's procedure of an HR. Thus, students were able to understand how to better orchestrate their applications. The program : recommendations, opinions, analysis of CV and cover letters.

Thanks a lot to Mylène Cosenza for her contribution and the time allowed which will most certainly help our students to make the difference.
