Say my name - Portugal - MFP 2015

In 2007, after 12 years in the fashion industry, the Portuguese designer, a Gudi Fashion School of Porto graduate, decides to create Say My Name, an audacious brand where talent immediately meets the eye.

The overall last collection has a futuristic feel to it while remaining very feminine. Pieces are all opposites but fit perfectly together. The perfect mix is there: a sweater or zipped jacket is worn over a pastel dress beautifully. Creativity has no limits: wool and fishnet come together in such grace. Shapes are also decadent while extremely wearable; this oversized too short pant is just delightful.
