"OpenMyMed Prize is a great opportunity for me to meet professionals from the fashion industry and make this project grown. Also, i have been quite close to this area of France, first because of my mediterranean origins, and also my selection to the Hyères Festival in 2014. I think this kind of coaching is very important to understand the system, be a part of it, and be able to make interesting proposals, in this area of fashion which is full of brands. It is an honor to be part of it."

Graduate of the School of Visual Arts of Cambre in Fashion Design, Louis-Gabriel Nouchi (LGN) launches in 2014 a capsule collection with Galeries Lafayette, before joining the team of Jeffrey Rudes in Italy for a year. In parallel, he signed a new capsule collection with La Redoute in 2015. He then returned to Paris at Editions M.R, within the creative direction, and is currently launching a capsule collection with Agnelle for the Fall / Winter 2018 season.
